

DOWNLOAD

Sound Sense - Living and Learning with Hearing Loss

By Sara Laufer Batinovich

Gallaudet University Press, U.S. Paperback. Book Condition: new. BRAND NEW, Sound Sense - Living and Learning with Hearing Loss, Sara Laufer Batinovich, One out of every eight people between the ages of 18 and 67 in the United States has a hearing loss, estimated as 12 percent of the working-age population. "Sound Sense: Living and Learning with Hearing Loss" addresses the acute need of these people to function at the highest level in these income-earning years, the longest phase in their lives. In nine pointed chapters, author Sara Laufer Batinovich, who also has lost her hearing, shares her experience and knowledge in turning every challenge into an opportunity to become one's best self-advocate. Batinovich begins in the workplace, advising on winning a job, keeping it, and developing a long-term career, plus how to reduce stress and establish fulfilling professional relationships with colleagues. She offers tips on communication ranging from having sales people face you for easier speechreading to parsing boarding announcements at airports and play-by-play at ballparks. Her practical handbook also provides step-by-step guidance for getting a hearing aid or a cochlear implant and finding one's way through prickly insurance claim mazes. "Sound Sense" features information on finding a service dog,...

READ ONLINE
[5.89 MB]

Reviews

This pdf is wonderful. It is definitely simplified but excitement from the 50 percent in the ebook. You won't sense monotony at any time of your time (that's what catalogues are for relating to should you request me).

-- Jaqueline Kerluke

I just started looking at this pdf. It can be really fascinating through studying period of time. It's been printed in an extremely basic way and is particularly only following I finished reading through this publication where in fact altered me, change the way I really believe.

-- Mr. Stephan McKenzie