Excerpt from Church and State in the Middle Ages: The Ford Lectures Delivered at Oxford in 1905 The Papacy as a working institution; new documents available for its study. The two sides of its history contrasted, (1) Its civilizing influence; (2) the growth of bitter feeling against it. The English No Popery view, not merely due to the Reformation, though the Reformation does have its roots deep in the past; the causes were at work as early as 1250, along with very opposite influences. The subject of the lectures therefore is. The good and evil of the connexion of England with Rome, especially in the middle of the thirteenth century. Lecture I. The effects of this connexion upon the English Church, as shown in - (1) The Legatine constitutions of 1237, and their most important articles. Comparison of these with the long series of English canons, the affiliation of these latter and the general evidence which they supply. (2) The Gemma Ecclesiastica, its limitations and its general character; its thaumaturgy shows that the Church did not create...
